Carolyn Ayres

My Joy is the exploration of the Tarot with others, that we, together, may discover our Paths of Light. It is my hope that as we All come more into our own Light that others will be attracted by its loving pull of possibility. In this way we all become agents of change. We can then take the responsibility of creating a new paradigm of Love, Peace and Abundance for All.

News: And, so the uncovering continues as we deepen into Change in all levels of our lives. Those of us blessed with home and income who are not just surviving, can begin to serve by radiating our gratitude, our Light, our compassion and Love to All. It is easy to get dragged down in the morass of bad news and negative conversations but there is much to be celebrated. The Tower is falling. The expansion of consciousness is growing leaps and bounds. No one is left unscathed by this process. No one will be the same. All we can do is be Present and allow the emergence of Spirit to take the reins.

My classes and private sessions continue, sometimes in my Zoom room and sometimes in the Garden Studio with all the necessary precautions.

Bring your masks and yourself to the next celebration on the Celtic Wheel, Lughnasadh, August 1. We will be outside with a fire. If you have not been receiving the Celtic Wheel invites and are interested, let me know.

Until then: Be Well in Body and Spirit and...

Enjoy the New Moon Tribal Message for all of you in the Soul Collective of my email list.

I encourage you to use the questions I created from the New Moon reading for your own Tarot reading.

Discover your individual contribution to the whole.

The Tarot images in the reading are from the Thoth Tarot

Message for the New Moon of July 2020

The struggle The demands The pressure
Where is this coming from? Your Self. Much of the “pressure” you are feeling is coming from within, that is, the pressure of coming more and more into your Oneness. The idea that you are interconnected so that when one is seen to be suffering, you feel compelled to suffer also. This is an out picturing of the pressure.

If you dive deeper, what is asked? To, yes, feel the suffering of others and respond but not necessarily by suffering yourself.

What response is called for? We would say compassion, the ability to observe and feel with another without climbing into the pool with them. Being with someone who is struggling, holding out a hand but also allowing the choices they are making without attachment to the outcome. Wanting the best for all concerned but also making room for everyone’s free will, everyone's individual expression, including yours.

How to make room for individual expression? This seems to be your quandary at this time. Many of you are suffering because of choices others are making. You feel entangled in a system which seems to not give you a choice.

We would say you always have choice. Yes, there are situations happening that you feel caught up in and yes, you have Free Will. You can get caught up or you can be unattached. This can bring up fear. If I am unattached, what then? Should I find something else to attach to or shall I free fall and trust, reveling in my freedom of choice? Choice to be in judgment of the situation. Choice to be curious. Choice to not make a choice and observe. Choice to be in Fear. Choice to be in Love. Choice to just sit and breathe, allow and see what emerges. Something will always emerge. That is the law of the universe.

Nothing is static. All is evolving and we would say the evolution is to Love. That at every moment of every crossroads of choice, you can choose Love. Where that takes you is again your individual choice. But we would say, even in all your diversity, if you all choose Love these individual choices will begin to merge as small streams into creeks and then rivers. And, that this choice of Love will eventually lead you to the ocean where you will see that you are all One Sea of Humanity. Yes, still with Free Will but all swimming and breathing Love.

New Moon Reading Questions

I ask what We, as a collective of souls, can learn from the message I received

Reading for the Tribe for the New Moon of July, 2020

Card One

A card for the Pressure, we as a collective, are feeling.

Card Two

How to have compassion for ourselves and each other? A Helper card

Card Three

A card for this collective at the crossroads of choice right now.

Card Four

What is the best choice for us in this moment?

Card One

A card for the Pressure, we as a collective, are feeling.

What a perfect card for our feelings of despair, our general overwhelm. The Seven of Cups is called Debauch for good reason. For we have completely bought into the illusion of suffering. We have dived into the pool of deep feeling and desire and now feel like we are drowning. But the saving grace of this card is the realizations and insights we can gain when we can dive deep into the morass, down to the bottom of the pool where the water begins to clear. Down in our deep heights, in darkness, we can find Light. We can begin to understand what is happening to our world on a deeper level and find compassion for the process we are all in.

Card Two

How to have compassion for ourselves and each other? A Helper card

Our friend, The Fool! A card of absolutely no attachment. So how can this aspect of us help us gain compassion? Okay, I get it. We must first detach from our conditioned and reactive mind in order to climb out of the gooey pool of “the world is coming to an end” and view the whole scene from a very high level. The Fool is the symbol of our Free Will without guilt. There is no “should” here. No judgement. So if we can start here, with a clean bill of mental health, we can have True Compassion that is not grown from what we “should” do. The Fool can enable us to observe the falling apart of our “normal” lives with joyful and curious anticipation of what new world will emerge.

Card Three

A card for this collective at the crossroads of choice right now.

Wow! look at this literal crossroad. The Two of Wands gives us the choice of either following Divine Will or following Divine Will. (-: This is why this card, in the Thoth, is called Dominion. Divine Will ready for action in any direction. Since we are the vessels for Divine action, as far as Source is concerned, any choice we make is great. As long as we allow our highest and deepest Divine Selves to make the choice. This is a choice with absolutely no ego mind interference.

So I would say, we are being asked to stand at the crossroads as an open vessel for Change, allowing the Fire of Creative Spirit to run through us. If we listen. If we allow, we can then make great choices.

Card Four

What is the best choice for us in this moment?

Hunker down and make the best of it, would be the interpretation of the Four of Disk/Pentacles from our human mind. But, remember, we are giving over to Divine Mind, Two of Wands. So...then the best choice we can make is to truly bring our spiritual Self into manifestation, big time. Notice all the triangles on the roof of this fortress which symbolize the four elements. This is the Power of all the elements in perfect balance. The fifth element of Divine Spirit would be protected in the center. Notice the moat, the sign of Capricorn on the bridge with the sign of the Sun above.. Feeling drawn to the astrology of this card, I did some research. In Vedic Astrology, the Sun rules over the soul and when the Sun enters Capricorn , it is considered very auspicious. This says to me, that yes, we are in auspicious times on the planet. And, we need to embrace the power of this moment. To dive deep beneath our suffering Seven of Cups, and befriend our pure essence of no Fear, The Fool, who can make choices from the Divine Mind, Two of Wands, to build a foundation for the new world emerging, Four of Disks/Pentacles.

Now it's your turn.
Do this month's reading for yourself to see where you, as an individual, can contribute to the whole.

As always I welcome your ideas, questions and comments.
